

Gifts Kids Can Make

Peace Holiday Tags

PLUS BONUS Lotion Bar Recipe

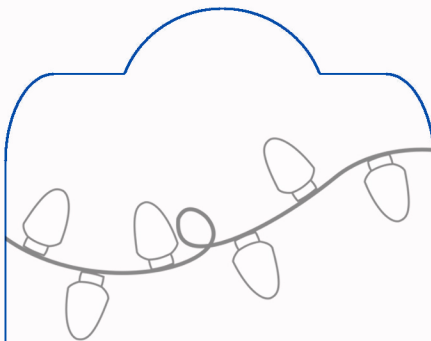

Kids can print and color these inspirational gift tags and make the included lotion bar recipe to give as holiday gifts to teachers, family, and friends.

Blank tags also included.

ed
Snapshots

edsnapshots.com

I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world.

John 16:33

To:

From:

Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

Philippians 4:6-7

To:

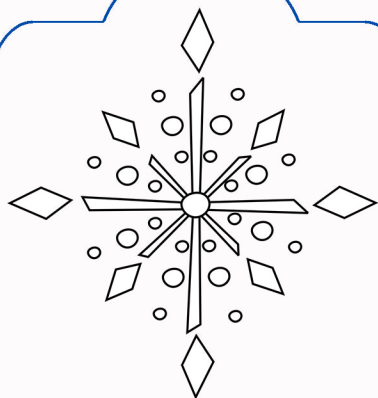

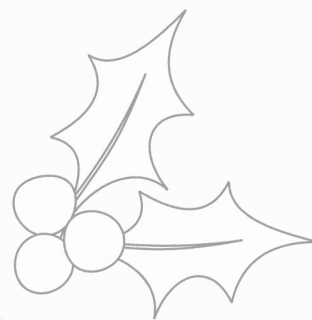

From:

Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. Not as the world gives do I give to you. Let not your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid.

John 14:27

To:

From:

Peace begins with a smile.
Mother Teresa

To:

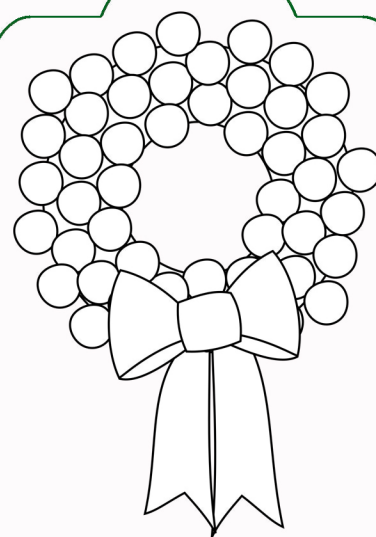

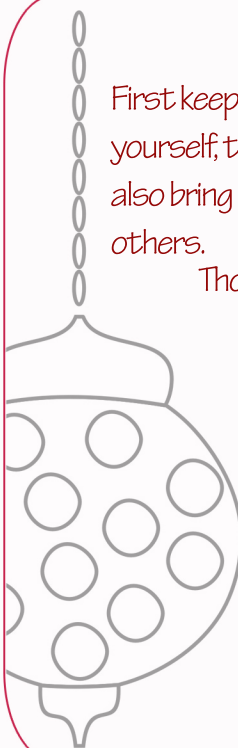

From:

First keep peace with yourself, then you can also bring peace to others.

Thomas Kempis

To:

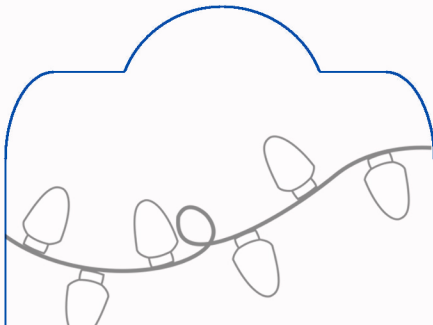

From:

Let there be peace on earth and let it begin with me...

To:

From:

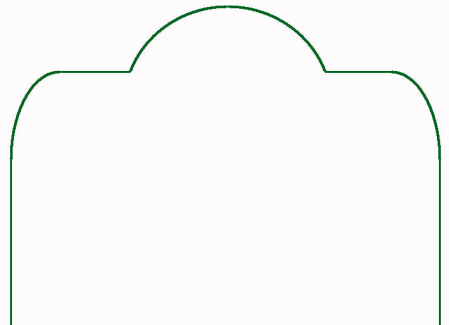

To:

From:

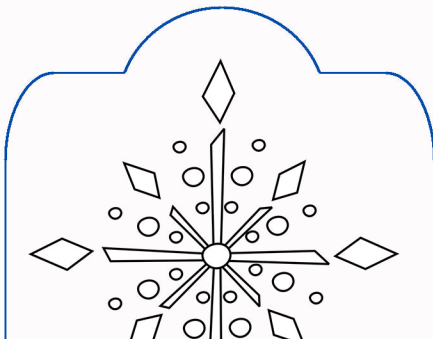

To:

From:

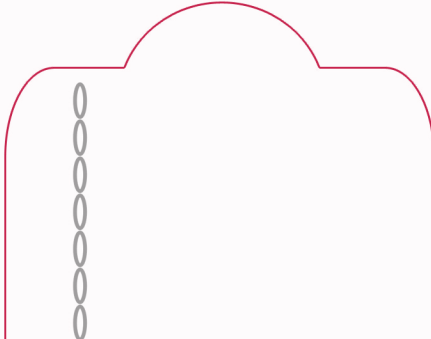

To:

From:

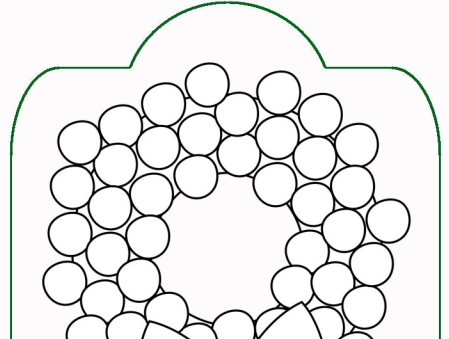

To:

From:

To:

From:

To:

From:

Winter weather brings dry chapped skin, which is no fun at all. This makes lotion bars a perfect small Christmas gift for kids to make and give to family and friends. We went with a peppermint scented essential oil to bring a little peace to a hectic holiday season.

The bars do require a bit of adult assistance, especially with the hot pouring, but for the most part the kids are able to mix up a batch mostly on their own -- depending on their ages of course.

DIY Christmas Gift Lotion Bar Supplies

For links to all supplies to make shopping easy, check our blog tutorial here.

- 3/4 cup Shea Butter
- 3/4 cup Beeswax Pellets
- 3/4 Coconut Oil
- 5-6 drops Peppermint Essential Oil
- Snowflake Silicone Mold

We bought and used a special snowflake silicone soap mold, which made our project a little more pricey. You can also mold these in a muffin tin with pretty Christmas muffin wrappers for a more affordable, but still cute, option.

Note: Consider using old, retired dishes for making the lotion. The remaining film will be very hard to remove from your regular cookware.

If you don't have old items you can pick some up from yard sales or a thrift store and designate those for lotion-making only. You will want to do this fun project again.

If you have a good-sized container of coconut oil in your kitchen, then you will only use up all of your shea butter while making this batch. Most of your supplies will be good for multiple batches.

You also need a double boiler for melting, but can easily make your own by placing a heavy heat-proof glass bowl or glass measuring cup down in a pot of boiling water.

Peppermint Lotion Bar Process

Begin by measuring the proper amounts of shea butter, beeswax pellets, and coconut oil in your bowl or pot. They can be a bit stubborn and won't mix well, but this is a good time to get your fingers messy.

Place your double boiler top in the boiling water and wait for the ingredients to melt, stirring occasionally. This part should be supervised carefully by an adult.

Everything melted up fairly quickly except for the beeswax. We were beginning to think those would never melt down, so give them time.

Remove from heat and stir in your peppermint essential oils. Now have an adult pour the melted mixture into the molds. We had one snowflake mold and our muffin wrappers had gone missing, so we filled our snowflakes quite high and only make six large bars. These still would have been lovely filled only half-way. This recipe would make twelve nice-sized muffin shaped lotion bars.

Allow your bars to cool on the counter. Once they are cool you can remove them from the mold.

Experiment with different essential oils, other muffin wrappers, and different mold shapes to create lotion bars for any gift occasion.

For more tutorials of gifts kids can make visit Ed Snapshots.com.